I am a London based Sound Recordist/Supervisor working across TV, Documentaries and Commercials. I have vast experience in setting up and mixing huge numbers of radio microphones, operating large multitrack, timecode, radio comms and talkback systems. Equally at home behind a desk, on a trolley, or with a bag around my neck. I've been all around the world, documenting everything from Congolese evangelical exorcisms and Russian mafia porn films to soggy bottoms and model trains.

My kit has been all around the world with me and is fully flight cased and ready at a moment's notice with carnet lists ready. I have particularly good relationships with several kit hire companies so if in the extremely unlikely event of an item being required that I don't already own, I can get hold of it at short notice. I'm also able to get myself and my kit to pretty much anywhere in my Landrover Defender 4x4 Kit Van.
