BAFTA nominated production sound mixer and sound recordist. I have a decades experience recording sound for film and television. I have worked extensively in factual and entertainment broadcast TV and more recently have been working in HETV Drama and film. From the public, to The Muppets and even British royalty I have worked with a hugely diverse range of talent both on screen and off. I own a full sound kit that can be tailored to your productions needs. I am constantly upgrading and adapting my kit to suit the demands of modern film making and in order to deliver the best sound for you production. Everything is possible and I strive to work to capture the audio no matter what the demand is. I live for film making and love my job. I'm diligent and organised and will always come prepared for the next challenge that's thrown my way whilst keeping a relaxed and professional manner on set. I live in London but also have a base in Glasgow, Liverpool and Malaga, Spain and have worked all over the world and would be happy to continue to travel!
